WEBSITE & IDENTITY PROPOSAL · PHILADELPHIA

PREPARED FOR ADDA · UNAPOLOGETIC FOODS

Saadhya Singampalli & the business development team

Mander Studio · SEPTEMBER 2026

— — — AT A GLANCE

A house this good deserves a website that cooks like the kitchen.

- 01

The website

A working concept you can click today: reservations one tap away, the Butter Chicken Experience sold properly, and a menu set like print. Desktop and phone.
- 02

A brand of its own

Adda Philly already has a beautiful arch badge. We'd grow it into a complete identity system, with three routes including a Punjabi-core direction.
- 03

Launch & growth

Production build with your reservation platform, an editable menu, local SEO and a care plan, so the site fills tables long after launch.

See it live: hvndal.github.io/unapologeticfoods · Walkthrough film: hvndal.github.io/unapologeticfoods/pitch · Everything in this concept is a demo; placeholders are listed on page 11.

— — — — — OUR READ OF THE BRIEF

Unapologetic in the kitchen. Unapologetic online.

Semma, Dhamaka and Adda changed how New York eats Indian food. Philadelphia deserves the same confidence on screen: no curry-house clichés, no stock “exotic” styling, no apology.

- Fill tables. Reservation in one tap from anywhere on the site, on every device.
- Sell the signature. The Butter Chicken Experience is a preorder product; the site should sell it like one.
- Tell the regions. A menu of places: Mumbai streets, Hyderabad weddings, Rajput kitchens.
- Carry the group’s standing. Michelin, the NYT’s No. 1, James Beard, without shouting.
- Be found. Own “Indian restaurant Fishtown” and “butter chicken Philadelphia” in search and maps.
- Stay easy to run. The team updates menus, hours and one-night dinners without a developer.

— — — — — THE CONCEPT

Pink City at dusk, lit by fire.

The hearth is the hero: embers in darkness. Jaipur's palace walls give the ornament, drawn in fine gold line. Oxblood and blush from Kalamkari textiles set the ground. Unapologetic's red dot is the one hard accent.

Fraunces Light

JUST FOR LABELS & READING

अड्डा · बिरयानी · मक्खन — a quiet second voice

— — — — — DESKTOP · FIRST IMPRESSION

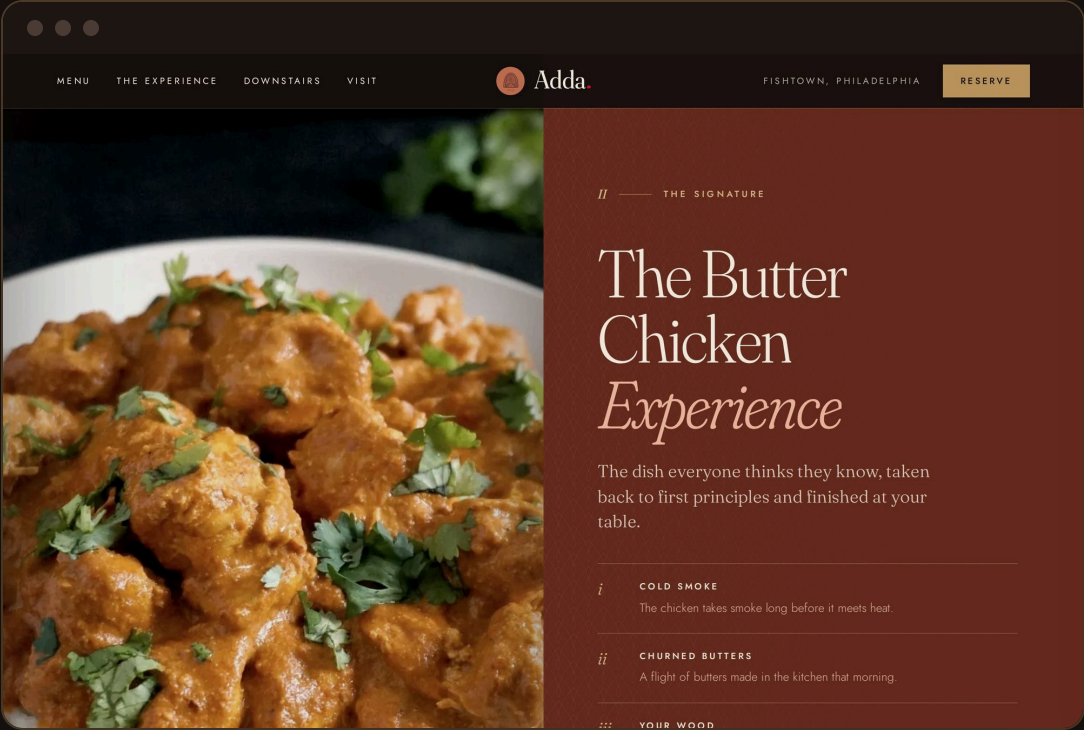

FIRE HERO: THE KITCHEN'S HEARTH, DIMMED SO THE NAME LEADS

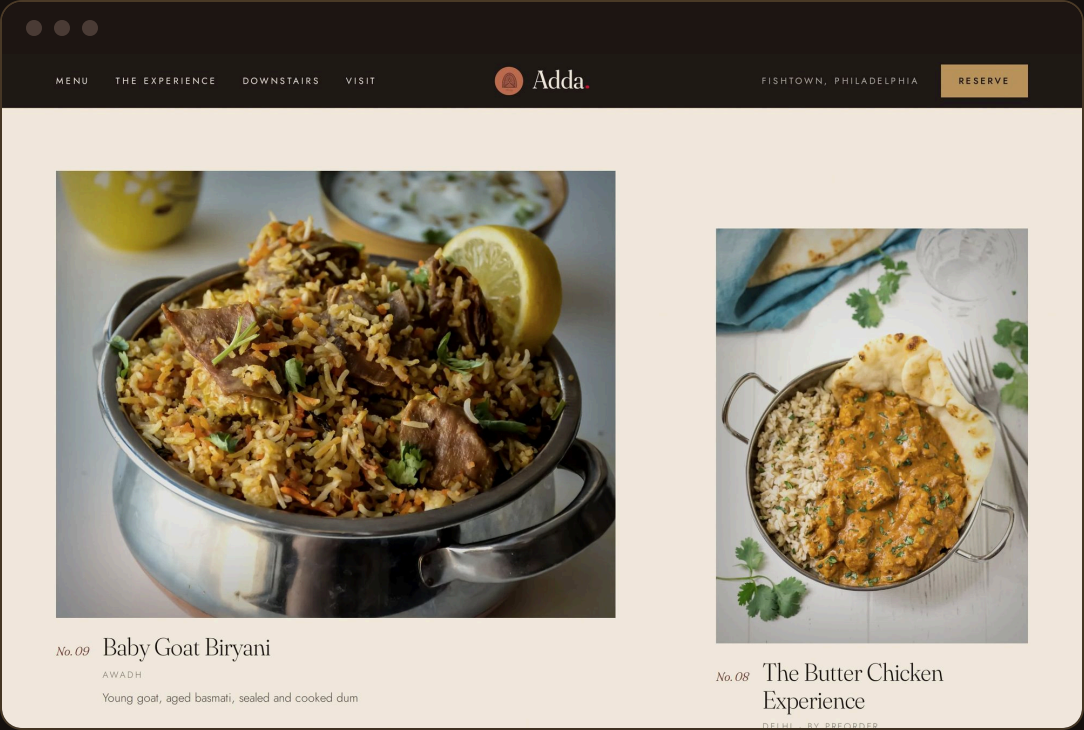

I · THE HOUSE: THE STORY IN ONE SENTENCE

- A curtain intro once per visit, then out of the way
- Reserve is always one tap away, in the nav and a mobile dock
- Chapters in Roman numerals, like a menu

— — — SELLING THE SIGNATURE

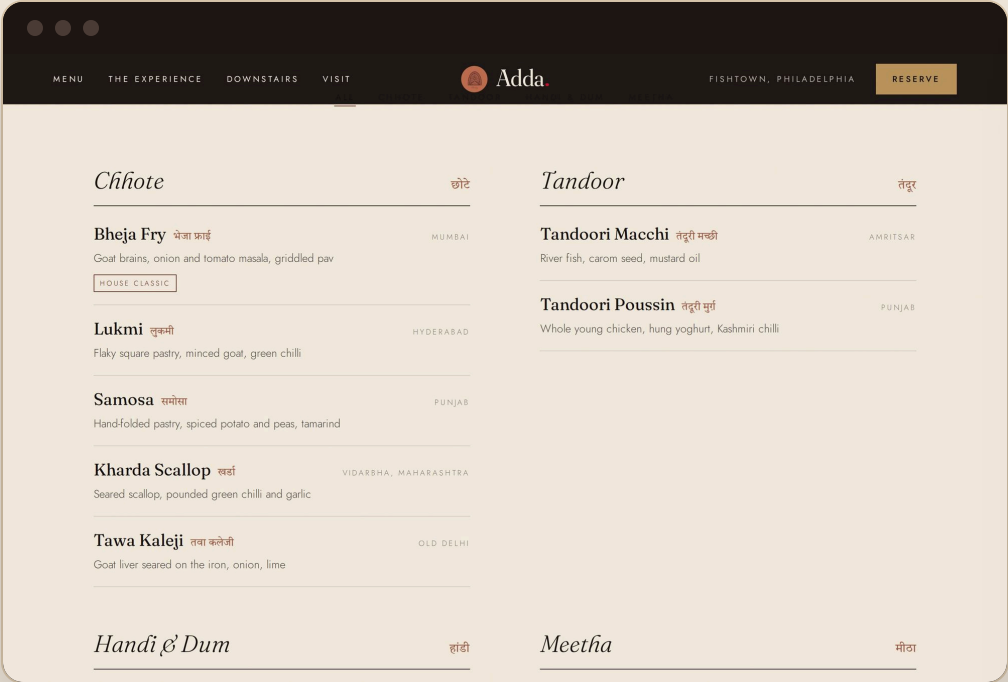

II · THE BUTTER CHICKEN EXPERIENCE AS A FOUR-STEP RITUAL, WITH PREORDER

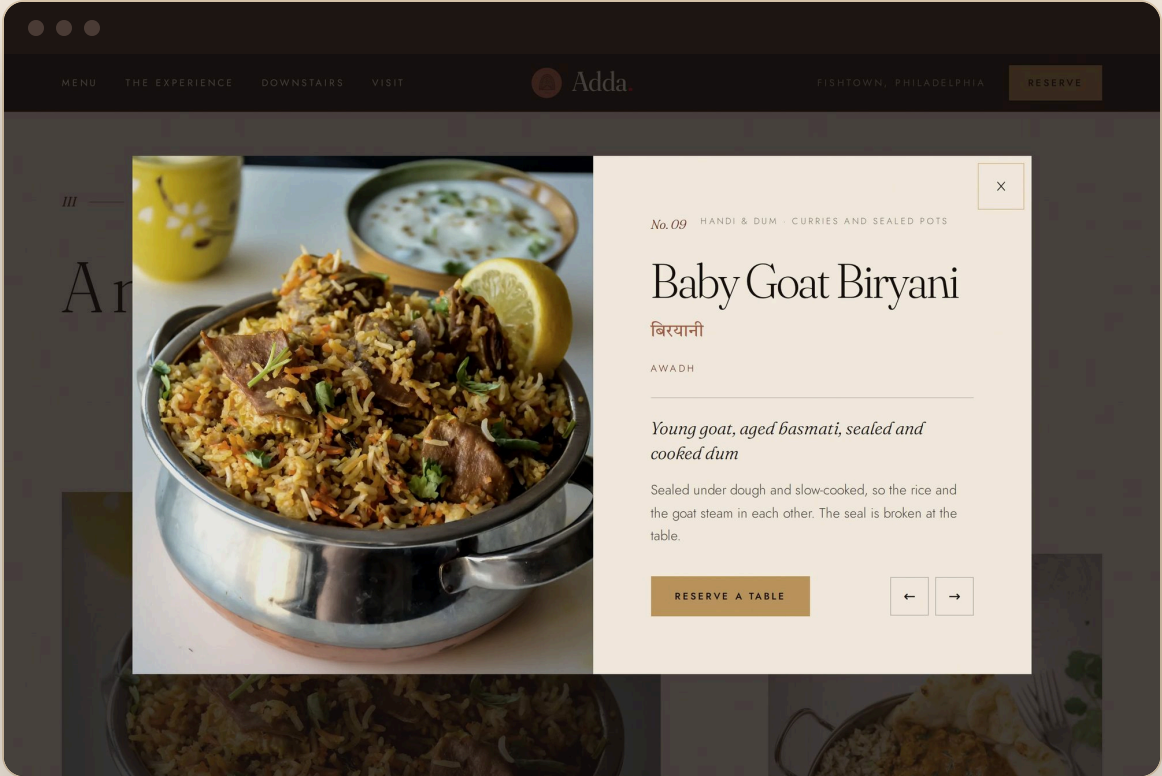

III · A MENU OF PLACES: FEATURED PLATES, EDITORIAL LAYOUT

The preorder button opens the booking panel with the Experience already switched on. In production it becomes a real prepaid add-on on your reservation platform.

THE MENU, SET LIKE PRINT

FULL MENU BY COURSE, FILTERABLE; PHOTOS FOLLOW THE CURSOR

EVERY DISH OPENS: REGION, STORY, NEXT AND PREVIOUS

Each dish carries its English name, a Devanagari second line and its region. In production the menu is edited in a CMS and the same data also produces the printable PDF menu and structured data for search engines.

BOOKING, RESY-GRADE

Three taps to a table.

- Party, a 14-day date strip and live-looking time slots
- Butter Chicken Experience preorder and a Downstairs request
- Occasion notes for the floor team
- Confirmation with “Add to calendar” (a real .ics file)
- Opens from every Reserve button, dish and section

Demo only: nothing is booked. In production this panel runs on your platform (Resy, Tock, OpenTable or SevenRooms), with real availability, deposits and confirmations.

THE REST OF THE HOUSE

IV · THREE FIRES: TANDOOR, TAWA, DUM

V · DOWNSTAIRS, THE CHEF'S COUNTER

VI · UNAPOLOGETIC: HONOURS & THE FAMILY

Custom gold-line drawings instead of stock icons. The palace arch frames Downstairs like a jharokha window. The group's honours are stated once, quietly, with the whole family of restaurants beside them.

— — — HONEST ABOUT THE DEMO

Working in this concept

- Fully responsive site: desktop, tablet, phone
- Booking flow, dish viewer, menu filters, hover previews
- Calendar export, newsletter form (not connected)
- SEO groundwork: Restaurant schema, social preview, icons
- Self-hosted fonts, responsive images, optimised video
- Keyboard, focus and reduced-motion support

Placeholders to replace

- Photography: open-source stand-ins, not Adda's food
- Hero film: stock fire footage; we'd shoot your hearth
- Menu: drawn from press on Adda's signatures; three items and all copy illustrative
- Hours, contact, downstairs details: invented
- Logo: the Adda Philly badge, taken from Instagram at low resolution; we'd need the vector file
- Accolades: wording to be approved by you

— BEYOND THE DEMO · PRODUCTION FEATURES

What the launched site does, every night.

i

Real reservations

Resy, Tock, OpenTable or SevenRooms. Live availability, deposits, the Experience as a prepaid add-on.

ii

Editable everything

A CMS for menus, hours, events and downstairs dinners. Menu PDFs generate themselves.

iii

Search & maps

Technical, local and content SEO (next page). Google Business, Apple Maps, Yelp kept in sync.

iv

Accessible by law

WCAG 2.2 AA. US restaurants are frequent ADA-suit targets; we build and test for it.

Private dining

Enquiry flow with capacity, minimums and menus, routed to your events inbox or CRM.

vi

Gift cards & shop

Gift cards and merch through Toast, Square or Shopify, styled as part of the site.

vii

Newsletter & CRM

“Letters from the kitchen” wired to Mailchimp, Klaviyo or SevenRooms guest profiles.

viii

Built for the group

One design system that can roll out to Semma, Dhamaka and the rest, each with its own voice.

— SEARCH & LOCAL VISIBILITY

Be the answer when
Philadelphia searches hungry.

The terms we would own:

“Indian restaurant Fishtown” · “best Indian food Philadelphia” · “butter chicken Philadelphia” · “goat biryani Philly” · “Fishtown dinner reservations” · “private dining Fishtown”

LAYER	WHAT WE DO
Technical	Fast static pages, Restaurant, Menu and Event structured data, sitemap, canonical URLs, social previews
Local	Google Business Profile optimisation, Apple Maps, Yelp and TripAdvisor consistency, review response plan
Content	Dish pages (Butter Chicken Experience, biryani), downstairs event pages, a press page that earns links
Authority	Links from the group's sites and existing press; Michelin and James Beard context done right
Reporting	Monthly: rankings, map views, calls, and reservations that started on the site

— — — A BRAND OF ITS OWN

A beautiful badge. Now a full identity around it.

The arch badge is the seed. We'd build the system around it: wordmark and lockups, colour, type, pattern, menus, signage and social, endorsed by Unapologetic Foods. Three routes, one recommendation.

ROUTE A · RECOMMENDED

Phulkari

Punjabi core. Embroidery geometry, madder and saffron silk. Maximal, but couture.

ROUTE B

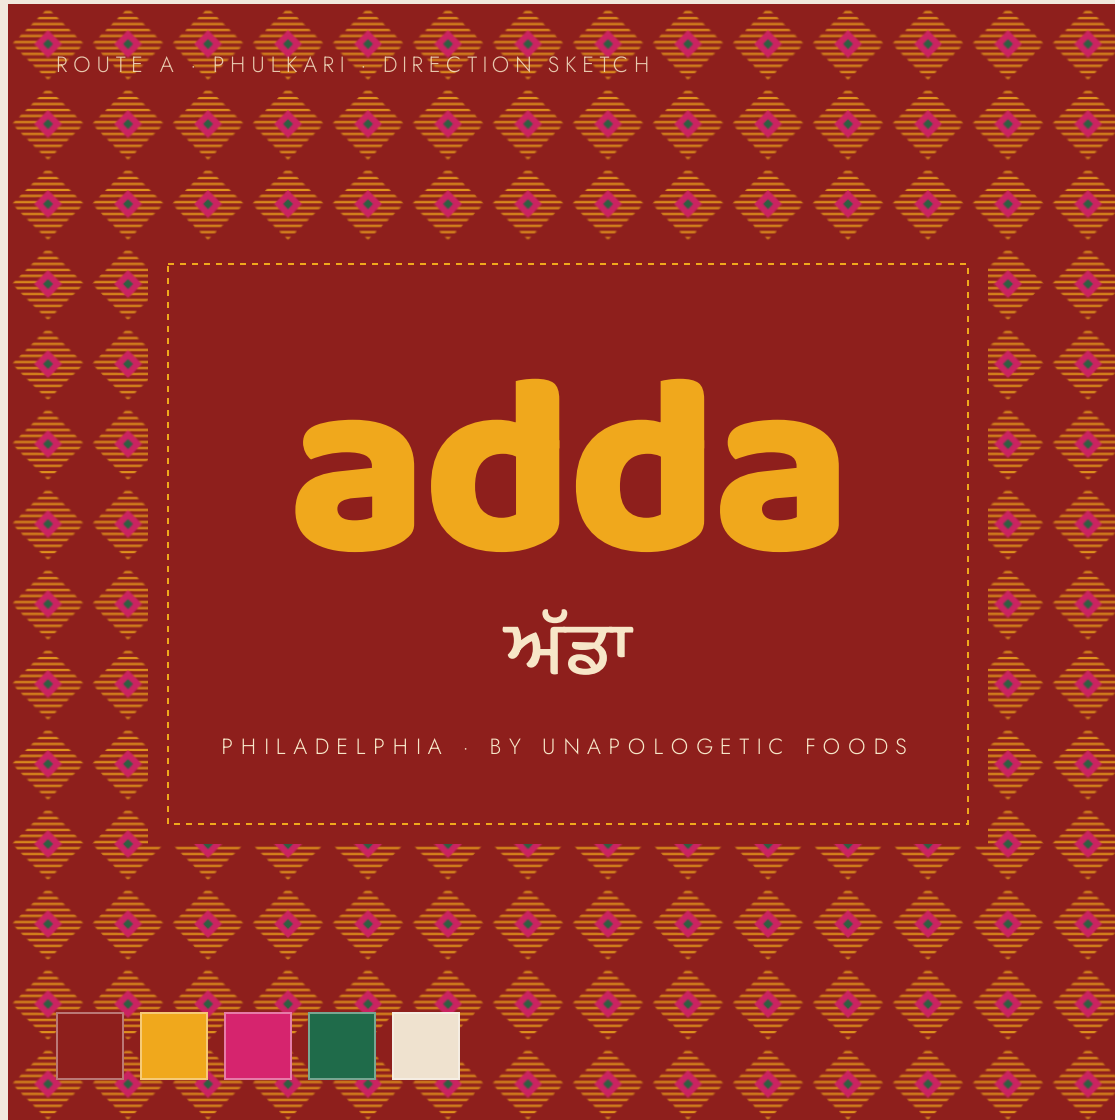

Horn OK Please

Truck art meets Philly sign-painting. Gold leaf, enamel colour, joy.

ROUTE C

Pink City Nocturne

The website's language made into a brand. Quiet luxury, fastest to roll out.

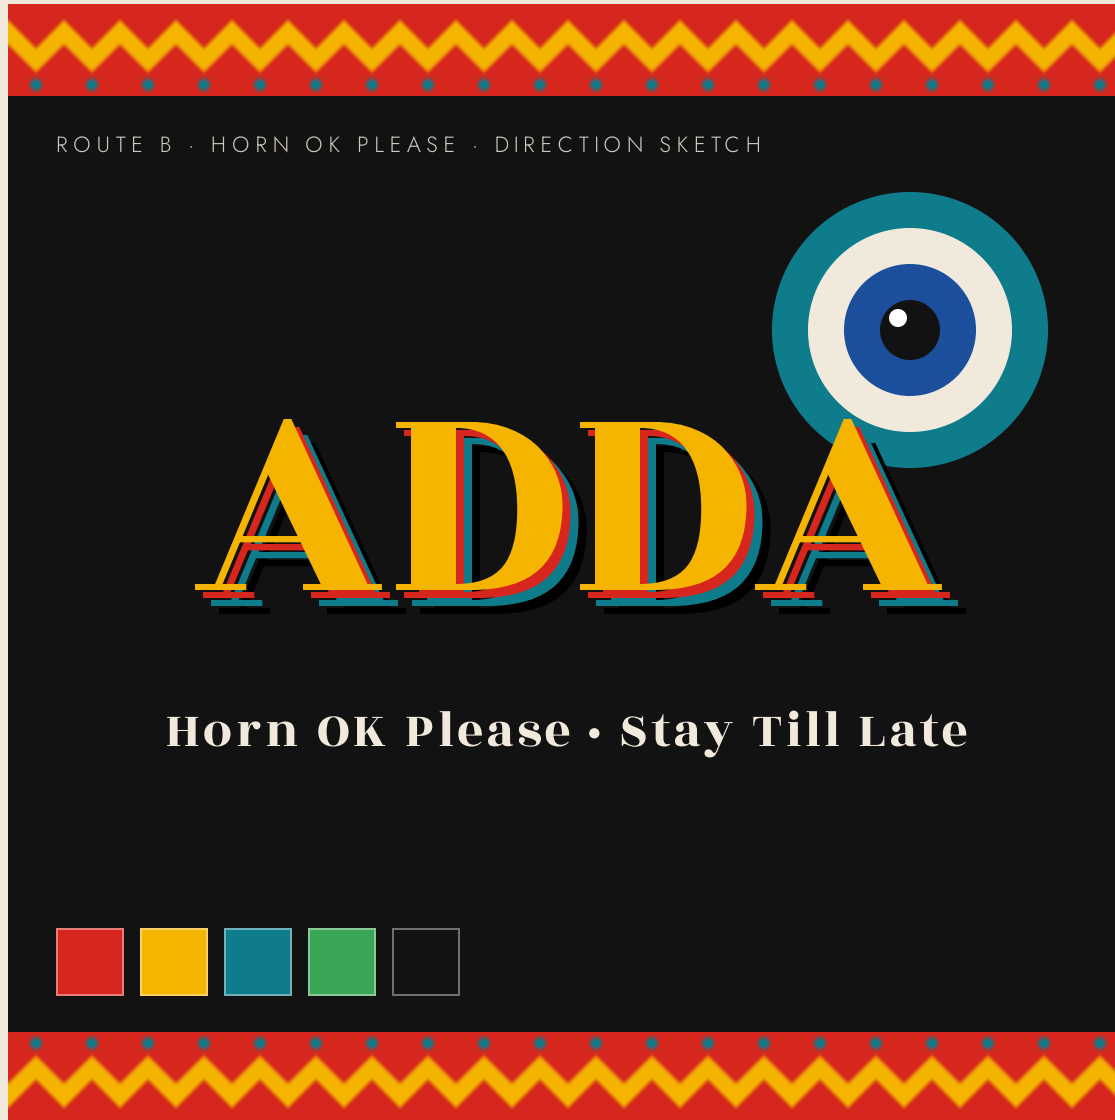

A — RECOMMENDED

Phulkari: stitched in Punjab.

Punjab's flower-work embroidery, dense darning-stitch diamonds in silk on handspun red khaddar, becomes the whole system.

- Mark: a custom "adda" built from stitch geometry, Gurmukhi companion, diamond "bagh" monogram
- Touchpoints: menus on khadi paper, embroidered aprons and napkin edges, a stitched wrap for the Butter Chicken Experience
- Story: commissioned with a Punjabi artisan collective, a real provenance to tell
- Why: the food is Punjab-rooted; maximalism that reads as couture, and ownable

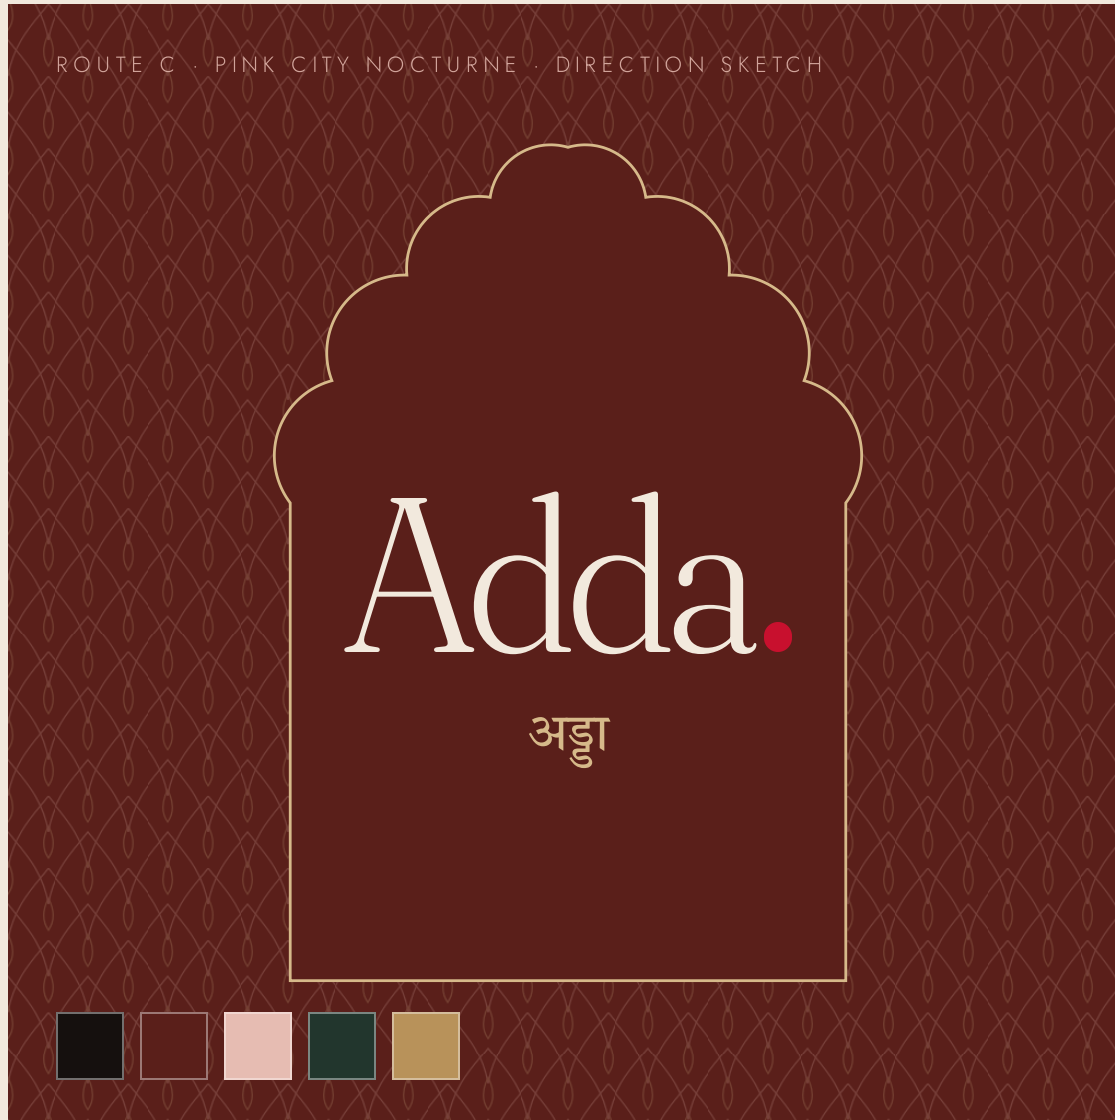

B — THE LOUD ONE

Truck art meets Philly sign-painting.

North India's painted trucks and dhaba menu boards, met by the hand-lettering tradition of the City of Murals.

- Mark: shaded, gold-leafed display lettering; evil-eye, parrot and peacock motifs
- Touchpoints: a façade mural co-painted by an Indian truck artist and a Fishtown sign painter, window gilding, dhaba menu boards, matchbooks
- Why: the most joyful, most photographed route, and the strongest Fishtown tie-in
- Watch-out: held in a strict grid and palette so it lands as craft, never kitsch

C — THE QUIET ONE

Pink City Nocturne.

The language of this website, made into a full identity: oxblood and blush, gold hairlines, the cusped arch as a frame, Unapologetic's red dot as punctuation.

- Mark: a refined serif wordmark with the red dot; arch monogram for stamps and napkins
- Touchpoints: blind-embossed menus, brass signage, petal-pattern tableware
- Why: quiet luxury, ready on day one, consistent with the site
- Hybrid: often the winner is A as the core, with B saved for the façade

— — — — — PROCESS & TIMELINE

Eight weeks, four stages.

Weeks 1–2

Discover

Kitchen visit, menu and brand workshop, platform audit (reservations, POS, email). Three identity routes presented.

Weeks 3–4

Design

Chosen route refined into a logo suite and system; website designs for every page on desktop and mobile; photography brief.

Weeks 5–7

Build

Production build, CMS, reservation and newsletter integration, SEO and accessibility, menus and brand guidelines.

Week 8

Launch

Content load, QA on real devices, team training, Google Business launch, then 30 days of included support.

WHAT WE'D NEED FROM YOU

Brand & content

- Existing logo files and any brand guidelines
- The current Adda Philadelphia menu, prices, allergens and drinks
- Butter Chicken Experience details: price, lead time, party size
- Hours, phone, email, accessibility and transit notes
- Founder and chef bios, approved press and awards wording

Photography & film

- Any existing dish, room and team photos
- Or a shoot day: we direct, you cook
- Permission to film the tandoor and grill for the hero
- Downstairs: concept, capacity and how it's booked

Access & decisions

- Reservation platform (Resy, Tock, OpenTable, SevenRooms)
- POS / gift cards (Toast, Square), email platform
- Domain & DNS, Google Business Profile, Instagram
- One decision-maker and a weekly feedback slot

If you send only three things:

① the current menu with prices · ② ten favourite photos of the food and room · ③ which reservation platform you use. We can start with that.

— — — — — NEXT STEPS

A twenty-minute walkthrough, then we cook.

Click through the live concept and watch the film.

A 20-minute call to walk it through and hear what matters most to you.

We confirm scope, pick a start date, and begin with a kitchen visit.
